

Steve Cenci, Managing Director Healthcare

Steve's been part of the Compass family since 2002 – wholly dedicated to our healthcare business. Despite his vast experience working with large blue chip companies and across the government sector, it's the healthcare industry that Steve finds most rewarding. Seeing the connection between what our teams do and patients getting better. Steve loves nothing better than a good ol' fashioned fry up – the fully monty of course. And every year on the 31st of January Steve celebrates the birth of not one, but all three of his sons... AND they're not triplets. A date impossible to overlook!
